LASTING PEACE AND SECURITY BEVINS PLEA

British Foreign Secretary Appeals for Adherence To the Potsdam Protocol

AGREES WITH BYRNES

By GLENN WILLIAMS
London, Oct. 22.—(P)—Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin declared today that "we must either have the Potsdam agreement observed as a whole and in the order of those decisions or we must have a new agreement."

Opening a two-day debate in the house of commons on foreign policy, Bevin declared that an "agreement on Germany is at once the touchstone of the relations among the four powers and our opportunity to build a lasting peace and security for the world."

He expressed "almost complete agreement" with U. S. Secretary of State Byrnes' pronouncements on the future of Germany in his Potsdam speech and added that "equally, we welcome Marshal Stalin's statement."

Bevin opposed Russian demands on Turkey for the Dardanelles. He declared "we will not desert Greece" and said "we wish to see Persia (Iran) x x x free from foreign interference."

He said Great Britain had no military interest nor "any narrow national interest" in Trieste, where the "purely political interest" is "purely one of international trade." He expressed hope that British troops could be withdrawn from both Trieste and Greece.

Voicing British desires about Germany, Bevin told the packed house:

"We wish to see established first political conditions which will secure the world against any German reversion to dictatorship or any revival of German aggressive policy."

He said he was "not unhopful" of lasting amity among the major powers.

He reaffirmed his decision to achieve understanding among the great powers—Great Britain, the United States, Russia, France, and China.

Bevin told the house of commons that Britain was anxious to include an enduring peace with Japan and ensure against future "Japanese aggression."

He spoke of "encouraging signs" in Indonesia (the rich Netherlands East Indies), said British troops would leave the islands by Nov. 30.

A dozen foreign ambassadors and ministers sat in the gallery of the packed house listening to the speech which had been spoken of in the British press as "the most important speech of his career."

He declared that any suggestion that Great Britain wanted to exploit and suppress peoples of the eastern Mediterranean was "sheer nonsense."

Bevin said Britain had made it clear that if Russian demands for bases in the Dardanelles were wanted, it would involve an "unwarranted interference with the sovereignty of Turkey."

Bevin reiterated that international negotiation would be helped "if the war of nerves ceased."

"A new atmosphere would be created," he declared, "which would enable the matter to be dealt with on a much better footing."

Bowles Predicts Rents Will Be Next Item To Be Removed

Philadelphia, Oct. 22.—(P)—Former OPA Administrator Chester Bowles predicted that rent control would be the next item removed in the government's decontrol program.

Speaking at a meeting of the Citizens Political Action Committee yesterday, Bowles also said that despite the urgent need of housing for veterans, the nation today "has the greatest unnecessary building program in history, even greater than 1929—a screwball year."

Then swinging around to the subject of price ceilings, the one-time director of the Office of Economic Stabilization said that the loudest critics are those who are making the most profit.

The country's 175 largest meat companies in 1939 had a total profit of $39,000,000 before taxes, while last year their profits "jumped" six times over the 1939 figure.

This year, he added, "one company alone, and not the largest, will make between $125,000,000 and $150,000,000 despite seven and a half months of price control."

Dispute Halts Beer Delivery In Smoky City

Pittsburgh, Oct. 22.—(P)—The AFL teamsters' union carried a local beer "war" into the downtown district today by picketing saloons which the AFL said handled CIO-delivered beer.

Lester M. Hunt, spokesman for the AFL union, said all truck deliveries to the picketed saloons would be cut off. This would also halt milk, food and ice deliveries.

The teamsters also were trying to persuade AFL employees of the picketed saloons—such as waitresses and bartenders—to quit their jobs until further notice.

The saloon picketing is the latest development in the fight of the teamsters to win back brewery workers who switched from AFL to CIO affiliation.

The breweries are operating at full capacity. Their spokesmen say they have no dispute with their employees, the majority of whom are members of the CIO-United Brewery Workers.

Members of the AFL-Teamsters Union have been picketing city breweries for a week.

Beer was delivered under police and CIO-union convoy in many sections of Pittsburgh and Allegheny county. Distributors in McKeesport, Glassport, Duquesne, Clairton and Elizabeth continued pooling their forces to haul beer through zones where they said attack from roving AFL pickets was feared.

Self Defense Trend Seen In Nevada Trial

Las Vegas, Nev., Oct. 22.—(P)—With questioning clearly indicating a self-defense trend, effort resumed today to seat a jury which will decide whether Bridget Waters, comely Irish woman, was guilty of murder in the Labor Day pistol slaying of her estranged husband.

A half-dozen jurors had been tentatively chosen as court recessed yesterday, following a session marked by a brief break in the defendant's calm. Suddenly breaking into sobs, she was escorted to an anteroom, but returned after a short recess to continue her emotionless inspection of the prospective jurors.

Seated tentatively were a housewife, a Negro hospital orderly, a graying building contractor, a young merchant, a tanned rancher, and a husky bartender. All had responded affirmatively to a prosecution question, that they did not believe "a wife has any more right to kill her husband than anyone else."

Mrs. Waters, 26, is accused of slaying Frank Waters, whom she met while he was in England as an American aircraft technician during the war. He was killed with a single bullet as he sat on the floor of her apartment, playing with their son, Frank, Jr., now 17 months old. She charged, opposing his divorce suit here last spring, that he deserted her and the child. He was denied a decree, and she won $100 monthly separate maintenance.

Last-Minute Conferences Are Held By Diplomats of World

New York, Oct. 22.—(P)—Diplomats from over the world called air staffs and advisers into last-minute conferences today to shape policies they will present in meetings of the general assembly of the United Nations scheduled open tomorrow in Flushing Meadow Park, with President Truman as the welcoming speaker.

Most delegations already were settled in overcrowded New York hotels, but late-comers still were flying by air from far parts of the globe. Among those due to arrive today were two prospective tagists—Field Marshal Jan Christian Smuts, prime minister of South Africa, and Mrs. Vijalakshmi Pandit of India. Her trip was delayed by engine trouble at Algers and then by the TWA pilots' strike in Shannon, Eire, where she changed planes.

Although some negotiations were reported in the wrangles between India and South Africa, Mrs. Pandit—only woman delegation chief—was prepared to carry on a fight in the assembly against "Jim Crow" conditions allegedly imposed upon India in South Africa. She is the sister of Pandit Jawaharlal Nehru, chief minister in India's new interim government.

The Indian delegation also has organized a campaign which may be sprung to oppose South Africa's intentions of annexing southwest Africa, the old German colony which the union administers under a League of Nations mandate. The annexation proposal has been placed before the general assembly for consideration.

GIANT PLANES GROUNDED FOR SECOND DAY

TWA Officials Take Controls of Special Ship To Fly Delegates To N. Y. Assembly Meet

NEITHER SIDE BUDGES

Washington, Oct. 22.—(P)—The White House said today the National Mediation Board is considering possible intervention in the two-day-old strike of pilots which has halted Trans World Airline flights at home and abroad.

Charles G. Ross, executive secretary of the Federal Labor Relations Board, said today that the White House itself has not entered into the wage dispute, but simply has been advised that the board is studying the case. He added that he did not know what that agency might do.

At the same, he said government seizure of the world-wide TWA system has not been discussed.

There were indications that a break in the deadlock over the pay increase demands of the AFL pilots, who now earn about $1,000 monthly.

TWA officials took over the controls of a special plane to fly United Nations delegates and officials from Paris to New York for the U. N. assembly tomorrow. But aside from that, all TWA Sky-masters and Constellations were grounded at airports.

Those who were aboard the special plane flown by Larry Trimble, TWA assistant superintendent of flying in Europe, and Stanley Stanton, assistant technical manager. Approximately 100 other New York-bound passengers were stranded at Paris. Rome and Shannon after pilots left planes there.

Neither side showed any inclination to budge from its stand and there were indications that the government might have to step in to the controversy.

Differing versions of the AFL union's pay demands range from a top union estimate of $1,187, a month, plus an undisclosed bonus for ocean flying, to a company claim of $1,250 a month, or $15,000 a year.

Pilots of the giant four engine Constellations have been earning up to $918 a month.

Neither Jack Frye, TWA president, nor David L. Behncke, head of the AFL Air Line Pilots Association, showed any inclination to budge from the adamant stand each took shortly before the line's 1,400 fliers began their walkout early yesterday.

The strike tied up 115 airplanes along with more than 28,000 miles of routes from California to Alaska to $918 a month.

What, if anything, the government might do remained uncertain.

Boy Admits Involuntary Manslaughter

Pittsburgh, Oct. 22.—(P)—Charles H. Hazlett, 13-year-old school boy, today pleaded guilty to a charge of involuntary manslaughter in the accidental shooting of a playmate, Michael Gerardi.

Charles said he buried the body in the cellar of his home, under boxes and old clothing. The skeleton was found eight months later by Earl Lee, 29, when he started to install a new furnace after he had purchased the Hazlett home.

Charges of murder and voluntary manslaughter against the lad were dropped.

Tears rolled down the school boy's cheeks as he stood before Judge Joseph A. Richardson in criminal court. He pivoted slightly, drew a white handkerchief from his pocket and wiped his face. Earlier he had sat alone in court, studying American history.

Charles was in Buffalo, visiting an aunt, when his playmate's skeleton was found. When arrested, he told police he and Michael were playing with a rifle in the Hazlett home last New Year's eve.

"Michael asked me to shoot him as if he were a jailbird, or something," Charles told police. "I didn't know the gun was loaded."

14-Year-Old Girl Admits Killing Dad

Superior, Wis., Oct. 22.—(P)—A 14-year-old girl, District Attorney Andy Borg disclosed, said in a statement that she shot and killed her father while he was sleeping.

"I shot daddy because I wanted mama to be happy," Borg quoted the girl as saying. The prosecutor said she told him she got the idea of the slaying from a radio program.

Borg said the girl, her 14-year-old sister and their mother had been questioned for four days in connection with the fatal shooting at their home last Thursday. The child's father was shot with a .22 caliber rifle, Borg said, and died about two hours later.

The prosecutor, who announced there were no charges against the girl and that she would be taken into juvenile court, said she told him she had tried to kill her father about three weeks ago by turning on the gas at their home. The girl was quoted by Borg as stating her father had beaten her and "had been mean to me."

Babe Safe After A Night In Woods

Manheim, Oct. 22.—(P)—Three-year-old Eugene Shue was found unharmed today 24 hours after disappearing from home with his dog Whitney.

The boy was located shortly before noon in woods about four miles from the home where he lived with his mother, Mrs. Martha Shue, and his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Shue.

Hundreds of volunteers had joined the search for the lad, giving particular attention to two small streams and woodland sections near his home.

The boy's mother said she gave Eugene his lunch yesterday, and then left the house for a short time. When she returned, she said the boy and the dog were gone but she thought Eugene had gone to the home of a neighbor to play.

Later when she called the neighbor's home and found her son was missing, she called the police.

Landlords Organize

Seattle, Oct. 22.—(P)—Owners of about 100 Seattle apartment houses have voted to begin holding apartmenters vacant, instead of re-renting them, in an effort to break the OPA ceiling on rents.

Some of those attending a meeting last night sponsored by the Pioneer Apartment Group, Inc., argued for a "strike" by apartment house owners and shutting off of services, such as heat and refuse collection, as a means toward breaking the OPA ceiling on rents.

Wilkes-Barre, Oct. 22.—(P)—The 74th annual session of the Pennsylvania State Grange opened here today with more than 1,000 delegates in attendance. The biennial election and installation of officers Thursday night will elect.

'One-for-Nine' Campaign Is Off To Enthusiastic Start; Report Meeting Wednesday

The Warren Community Chest officially opened in Warren Monday evening when the committee and their chairman met with H. W. Conarro, general chairman, and Henry Candy, who has so successfully lead Warren through many Community Chest drives.

The auditorium of the Y. W. C. A. began to fill with the workers as early as seven o'clock showing the enthusiasm of the various committees and their chairman for the work to come during this week.

While they were gathering, the group was entertained by the stirring music of the Warren High School band under the direction of Richard Kaufman. With the playing of the Star Spangled Banner, the meeting was officially opened by Mr. Conarro, who called on the Rev. Beecher M. Rutledge, who gave the invocation.

Mr. Conarro then spoke of the many campaigns of which he had been a member, of the new faces and of the old faces which have gone, but those who were there formed the nucleus of the people in Warren who would have a job to do and would get it done. Quoting a friend who had lived in California for the past twenty-five years, and was here on a visit he said that we in Warren had learned the art of gracious living. Saying this as his theme, Mr. Conarro said through the support of the Community Chest could we hope to keep this town what it always has been, a typical American town, one where gracious living was predominant. He felt that the organization this year was the best it ever had been.

Congratulating Mrs. Dawson on the wonderful attendance of the women's divisions, he spoke of her splendid work in the past campaigns, but this year not only the women's divisions but all divisions he felt would have a tough time, the first since the war, for example, two of the surrounding towns, one of which raised 54% of its quota and then stopped, another which raised only 50% of its quota the first week and had gone on to the second week in an effort to raise the full amount.

Mr. Conarro stated that he was confident that the Warren would not fall back and by the first report Wednesday night, the full amount will have been raised.

Buyer Resistance To Meat Prices Shown In Key Cities

The growth of definite buyer resistance to meat prices that have spurred to an extreme of $1.50 a pound was shown today in a heavy majority of the key cities covered in a nation-blanking survey.

At the end of the first full week of uncontrolled meat prices, a spot check of 48 cities by The Associated Press produced a scorecard that read like this:

Red meat has come back in sharply improved to ample quantities on the counters of 39 communities; in nine others—six of them in the east—meat is still scarce to non-existent.

Prices have risen everywhere. In a few cases by as little or even less than the federal subsidy that vanished with OPA control, but in one-third of the 48 cities prices of $1 a pound or more have been chalked up for choice cuts.

Resistance to these prices has appeared in degrees ranging from beyond the muttering stage to active organized picketing in 34 of the survey cities; in others the plaint has risen that citizens had nothing to resist.

In at least 10 cities this resistance has either been effective in chopping down the topmost prices, or has given promise of doing so within a few days.

While meat has come out of hiding, several other key living scar cities have remained as hard to find for the most part as they have been for many weeks. In 25 of the reporting communities sugar was listed as scarce to entirely unobtainable—with Philadelphia high among them despite 70,000,000 pounds aboard ships held off her wharves by the maritime strike.

In 43 of the 48 cities both soap and shortening were markedly scarce and in 39 of them toilet tissue was anything but readily obtainable.

New York City and St. Louis provided instances where prices have dropped under sharp refusal by housewives to buy. Good port-house steak dropped from $1.25 a pound to 85 cents in New York, and in St. Louis it went down from $1.25 to 85 cents and failed to sell at that price.

As a sidelight, butter prices have been driven down in some cities by the same tactics.

Arbitration Plans Speeded At Pittsburgh

Pittsburgh, Oct. 22.—(P)—Plans were being speeded today for arbitration of the power strike which dimmed this city's lights through a 27-day strike of Duquesne Light Co. workers.

Secretary of Labor Lewis B. Schwellenbach has agreed to name a five-man panel from which the third arbitrator in the wage dispute will be selected. The secretary said the panel will be announced as soon as the independent association of employees of the Duquesne Light Company chooses its arbitrator.

The company already has named Maurice R. Scharff, New York consulting engineer, as its representative on the three-man board of arbitration.

George L. Mueller, president of the independent union, said the union's case to the board.

With the strike ended, business was operating at full tilt again throughout the 817-square-mile area which Duquesne Light serves in Allegheny and Beaver counties. Plants were back on their normal schedules, street cars and buses were running regularly, stores and office buildings were doing business as usual.

It was estimated that the strike, which at its peak made more than 100,000 workers idle, cost a half billion dollars in lost wages and production.

MEAT THIEVES BUSY

Kans, Oct. 22.—(P)—State police are seeking meat thieves who slaughtered a cow on the Al Huff farm nine miles east of here, leaving only the head and hoofs behind.

Obviously nettled, the state department countered yesterday by serving notice that it will keep a sharp watch on the Bulgarian elections, scheduled for October 27. In addition, it appeared likely that the United States will continue to withhold its recognition of the Bulgarian government, at least until satisfied that Bulgaria's assurances of a free election have been fulfilled.

The issue—once again emphasizing Soviet resentment over any attempt to probe into Russia's spheres of interest—developed originally from a request made by Secretary of State Byrnes in Paris on September 24.

At that time, Byrnes asked for a special tri-power Bulgarian commission to "consider the steps" necessary to insure a free election in Bulgaria.

Cattle Deliveries In Chicago Drop

Chicago, Oct. 22.—(P)—Cattle and sheep at the nation's terminal livestock markets dropped far below yesterday's great numbers today, but hogs ran somewhat higher.

Influencing the fluctuation was an embargo ordered at Sioux City, Ia., because of a lack of cattle cars in which buyers could ship their animals east. A partial embargo by means of a permit system was enforced by the Illinois Central and Belt Line Railroads at Chicago. Other smaller points felt the car stringency.

Prices, too, affected overnight loadings. Hogs generally were from $1.00 to $2.00 higher yesterday whereas cattle and sheep usually were just as much lower.

STATE GRANGE MEETS

Wilkes-Barre, Oct. 22.—(P)—The 74th annual session of the Pennsylvania State Grange opened here today with more than 1,000 delegates in attendance. The biennial election and installation of officers Thursday night will elect.

Frankfurt, Germany, Oct. 22.—(P)—Four German girls and an American soldier were killed and two other soldiers and eight German girls were injured when a truck plunged over a 22-foot embankment near Hersfeld while returning from a dance, the Third Army announced today.

Samuel Davanzo of West Naticoke Heights, Pennsylvania, constabulary trooper, was killed. The girls had been hostesses at a squadron dance.

CIO MARINE ENGINEERS AND GULF COAST OPERATORS SIGN CONTRACT TO END WALKOUT

AFL Union Plans to Resume Negotiations With Owners Later In Day and Ratification Will Leave Only West Coast Idle

TERMS ARE NOT IMMEDIATELY MADE PUBLIC

By the Associated Press
A break appeared today in the 22-day-old national maritime strike which has paralyzed nearly all American shipping, but at the same time there was a threat of a New York stoppage next month by the country's 400,000 soft coal miners.

In New York, leaders of the CIO Marine Engineers Beneficial Association and the east and Gulf coast operators signed a contract to settle their crippling maritime walkout, but that did not mean an end of the general shipping tieup.

The operators have not reached agreement with the second union involved in the dispute—the AFL Masters, Mates, and Pilots Union, and a CIO Union spokesman said the engineers would continue to respect the AFL union's picket lines. The agreement also must be ratified by both the union membership and the 44 shipping companies and representatives of agents and operators.

A CIO spokesman said he would recommend that the general membership of MEBA ratify the agreement reached today.

The AFL union planned to resume negotiations with the operators later today and an agreement and ratification would leave only the west coast strikebound. The unions are to negotiate with the Pacific coast operators later.

Terms of the agreement between the MEBA and operators were not immediately disclosed. Wages were the chief issues in the dispute between the operators and both unions.

In other continuing labor disputes, new efforts were being made to settle the lengthy general jurisdictional strike of two big AFL groups in the movie industry in Hollywood was in its second month and Herbert Sorrell, chief of the striking conference Studio Unions, predicted the turning point in the dispute this week. The CSU announced plans for a mass meeting of some 30,000 supporters Saturday.

In Los Angeles, the CIO Newspaper Guild rejected an offer by the Evening Herald-Express, strikebound since Sept. 3, to resume negotiations if the Guild's 325 striking employees returned to work. The strike stemmed from a dispute over wages.

Challenge By Mine Leader Charges Breach of Contract

Washington, Oct. 22.—(P)—The government today challenged John L. Lewis' right to reopen the wage contract for soft coal miners, but offered to discuss arbitration of his new demands.

Navy Capt. N. H. Collisson, coal mines administrator, said that terms of the agreement between the United Mine Workers' chief and Secretary of Interior J. A. Krug ending a 58-day strike last spring were to remain in force for the duration of government operation of the mines. Lewis, raising the threat of a new shutdown in the coal fields, last night charged the government with breach of contract and demanded that negotiations for a new one begin by November 1.

Washington, Oct. 22.—(P)—John L. Lewis tossed the threat of a new soft coal strike at the Truman administration today, hinting broadly at new wage demands and charging the government with breach of contract.

Lewis' new challenge, ending nearly six months of comparative near-silence, could mean a walkout of winter.

Krug, reached at Amarillo, Tex., during an inspection trip, expressed shock at Lewis' assertions.

"The government has not breached its contract with the United Mine Workers," he declared.

Krug disclosed that he and Lewis had a heated discussion in his office last Saturday morning. He also asserted that in his opinion some of the wildcat coal strikes constituted a breach of contract on the part of the miners.

Krug voiced confidence that the pact "will stand for the period of government operation" of the soft coal mines. He was not certain whether he would return to Washington by November 1, as requested by Lewis. His trip is scheduled to continue through November 4.

Coincidental with Lewis' new blast, Navy Capt. Norman H. Collisson, federal Coal Mines Administrator, disclosed that he already had written a letter to Lewis accepting the decision of an Illinois arbitrator—a decision favorable to the union—on the issue of vacations, one of the points raised by Lewis in his charge of contract violations.

Man and Wife Die In Plane Accident

Huntingdon, Oct. 22.—(P)—A small privately-owned airplane crashed into fog-shrouded Broad Top mountain, 30 miles south of Huntingdon yesterday, killing Mr. and Mrs. Allen R. Patterson, both about 50, of Boston, Allegheny county.

The victims were identified by their son, C. A. Patterson, a student of Franklin and Marshall college, who made a hurried trip from Lancaster after being notified of the tragedy. Arrangements were made to send the bodies home for burial.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Patterson were licensed pilots and were en route home at the time of the crash after a weekend visit with their son.

Patterson was an owner of the Glassport Lumber and Supply Company and was a McKeesport area representative of the brokerage firm of McKelvey and Con-

No Such Person As 'Hans Berger' Red Writer Insists

New York, Oct. 22.—(P)—Gerhard Eisler, named by a former editor of The Daily Worker, Communist publication, as the mysterious "Hans Berger" who directed all Communist activity in America, says "there is no such person as 'Hans Berger.'"

"That name is the pen name invented by the foreign editor of The Daily Worker, Mr. Joseph Starobin, for use in publishing articles for which, though written and sponsored by himself, were largely based on material or notes supplied by myself," Eisler said in a prepared statement last night.

He had been named as "Hans Berger" by Louis F. Euderz, who renounced Communism to rejoin the army.

Eisler, who has denied using any name other than Gerhard Eisler since coming to this country as a German refugee in 1941, said his explanation was delayed because Starobin has been undergoing a delicate ear operation. At Starobin's Long Island City home, his wife said he had authorized Eisler to issue the statement.

In Washington, Rep. Rankin (D-Miss) said the house committee on un-American Activities had issued a subpoena for Eisler. The committee will hear his testimony some time after Nov. 19, when

WHEN WITCHES RIDE

It's soon time for mortals to take off with flying witches and jumping goblins. On Allhallow's Eve there'll be some 10 million parties in swing, estimates the National Hallowe'en Committee. This donut manufacturers' organization was set up to promote sane celebrations—as well as a product.

Point of parties, of course, is to have fun. And the surest way to the harmless kind, the committee says, is to have enough planned games on tap.

To get a spook fest off to a fast start try a broomstick nut race, suggests Pathfinder Magazine. Divide guests into teams of ghosts, bats, cats and owls. Have each team choose a witch and give him or her a broomstick to ride. At the starting signal, everyone hunts for hidden peanuts.

When a nut is found, the player sounds the team signal—ghosts moan, bats squeak, cats meow, owls hoot—in order to get his witch to come for the nut. Wait and hear what happens when opponents spot the same nut. There's a prize for the team with the biggest haul.

For an eating contest place a donut before each kneeling contestant. The first one to eat the donut (without hands) and whistle Yankee Doodle cops the prize.

No Hallowe'en party is complete without fortune-telling. Stuff fortunes in donuts, tie a streamer to each and pile in a jack o'lantern. Center the pumpkin on the table with streamers reaching to guests' plates. Let each guest pull his fortune and read it aloud.

For other tips on games, decorations, and food, write the National Hallowe'en Committee, 152 W. 42 St., New York City, for its free booklet.

WHAT ABOUT THAT STREAMLINED CONGRESS?

Now that the meat question is settled, it might be well if the voters heard something from the various candidates for Congress about their present feeling toward congressional reorganization.

There was a lot of enthusiasm and a big vote in favor of the LaFollette-Monroney reorganization bill when it was passed at the last session. But some of the members' pious ardor seems to be cooling.

Old ways of thinking and doing are hard to give up. And some congressmen give evidence that they might like to retain some of the traditional practices which were largely responsible for the streamlining. This seems to be particularly true of committees, whose membership and particularly chairmanship carry prestige and patronage.

The LaFollette-Monroney act trimmed the Senate committees from 33 to 15, and those in the House from 48 to 19. This is all to the good. The old spat of committees was cumbersome, inefficient and time-consuming. But now some of the boys want to stick to the old horse-and-buggy technique.

This apparently would be possible because, though the reorganization bill is law, no outgoing Congress may impose its rules on its successor. So apparently the new Congress could adopt the old rules when it meets next January.

There is some muttering about the other provisions of the LaFollette-Monroney act, though some of its reforms are reasonably sure of adoption—especially the one that ups congressional salaries from $10,000 to $15,000.

So, since the 79th Congress voted the 80th a raise, perhaps it would be a good idea for the aspirants to express themselves on the subject of doing a more efficient and workmanlike job for their money.

OLD AMERICAN CUSTOMS

It has been explained that the "rudeness" to which Soviet Ambassador Novikov was subjected by our customs officials was due to the fact that the State Department had no advance notice of his arrival. Consequently, he had to undergo the same treatment that any ordinary arrival gets. And that, as most travelers can tell you, is likely to be annoying.

We sympathize with Mr. Novikov and with the State Department which, Russian feelings being as touchy as they are these days, needs no added embarrassments.

But we sympathize with all the other travelers who seem to feel that their job requires them to suspect everyone of criminality.

Our officials aren't the only offenders, of course. But that is no reason why the Treasury and Justice Departments shouldn't follow up the Novikov incident by instilling some better manners into their port-of-entry hired hands.

Interesting Items Taken From The Warren Evening Times

Persons residing in the vicinity of Sugar Grove were greeted with a two-inch snowfall when they arose this morning. Warren was given a slight snow flurry about 8:30 o'clock, but the snow melted as soon as it fell on the ground.

Creed Alexander Erickson and Doris Allred Erickson, both well known residents of Warren, secured a marriage license yesterday at the office of the register and recorder.

Tentative plans are being made by the officials of the Penn Public Service Corporation for the extension of an electric line into Grand Valley. The supply would probably come from the sub-station at Corry.

Despite the cold and disagreeable weather, Coach J. E. Leidig had a squad of over five teams at Russell Field for a hard work-out yesterday afternoon.

Don Finley, in charge of the trout stocking of Warren vicinity streams, took over the job of distributing 60 cans of trout to the streams for the Izaak Walton League of this city.

A report of the various committees in charge of the Young Republican Organization's Sun Flower Fair make it assured that every person appearing at the Warren Armory Saturday afternoon will have a joyous and entertaining evening.

At the noonday luncheon of the Warren Lions Club held Tuesday, activities for the coming year were discussed and referred to a directors' meeting to be held Thursday evening of this week at the residence of Ernie Stein, Fourth avenue.

Members of the Kiwanis Club and friends of S. M. (Monty) McClure in general will be interested in learning that at the closing session of the Kiwanis International convention in Pittsburgh this morning he was elected lieutenant governor of the district one, which includes Warren. He takes office at once.

The Youngsville High gridders meet the Corry Beavers on the home field of the Eagles Saturday afternoon. The highly touted team is undoubtedly the strongest outfit the luckless Red and White boys have been called upon to face this season.

By JANE EADS

WASHINGTON—Until recently most Europeans had heard only of jazz. They liked it. Later, they've gotten an earful of our more serious modern music. They're going for it in an even bigger way.

Carlos Moseley, a blond young man from Spartanburg, S. C., a former concert pianist who is music specialist for the State Department's office of International Information and Cultural Affairs, is enthusiastic over the response.

He says that the past generation of American composers turned out music that was derivative of European music but that the new music is unadulterated American and has been described by leading musicians abroad as "fresh, dynamic and vigorous."

When Czechoslovakia presented its Prague International Music Festival last Spring, the organizing committee was reluctant to arrange special American concerts instead of an "Anglo-American" concert as originally proposed.

This, it was explained, was due to the general belief that American national music "had not really developed yet" and was to be considered a "branch of English music."

"This view has been completely changed," Moseley says. "American music won a great and resounding triumph in this ancient seat of musical tradition and culture."

Chapter 24

A CHILL centered in Martin's heart and spread through his veins. It was not the thickset man's hint of a beating that terrified him, ugly as that was, but the thin one's allusion to Barbara. The thought that she, too, might have received a phone call was more than he could endure.

"Get hold of Morrissey," Martin said. "There are some things he's got to know in hurry if he wants to keep out of a jam that will wreck him."

"Morrissey?" The thin one raised his eyebrows. "Never heard of him. Did you, Mickey?"

"Sure," the other answered. "That was the name of a guy I knew in San Quentin. He never got over a dose of lethal gas they gave him for a job he did on a cop."

"You see, King? You're all upset, worrying about somebody whose troubles are over."

The car had left Pearl Street and was swinging into South Street, heading north toward the bridges. Fulton Fish Market excluded its memorable fragrance on Martin's left, and on his right several freighters lay at East River piers. Men were working or loitering in the market and on the docks, but the broad strip of uneven brick paving might have traversed the center of the Sahara for all the hope of rescue it offered. The thin man watched Martin every instant.

Nevertheless Martin knew he must make a break, and the sooner the better.

He leaned back, half closing his eyes, pretending to relax. In his pockets his hands curled into tight fists and all over his body the muscles hardened stealthily.

Mickey, his narrowed eyes reflected in the rear-view mirror, said, "That green job a block behind has been there ever since we picked him up. It stays put, not getting closer or farther, no matter if I go fast or slow."

The thin one looked back, and this was Martin's chance; but the thought of the car behind made him wait.

"Who is it, King?" the thin one demanded.

"The cops, of course," Martin said. "You didn't think I'd take any risks after Morrissey's threats, did you? I tipped them off right after Joe Lark phoned me."

The gunman eyed Martin coldly, unconvinced. He said to Mickey, "Turn off. Twist around some corners. It don't look like any law car."

THE sedan swerved into Catherine Street, and as it did so Martin caught a glimpse of the green car. He could not see its occupants, but it looked like any private automobile being driven along by someone who was minding his own business, not hurrying. Two blocks away Mickey turned into Cherry Street and started to pass beneath the Manhattan Bridge. Mickey's eyes in the rear-view mirror betrayed nothing and Martin's heart grew heavy. It had been a false alarm and he had missed, back there, the best chance he would ever have to make his break.

Then the thin one cried, "Here it comes. Run for it, Mickey." And the sedan lurched forward, and Martin sat up, thrilled in every fiber.

"No funny business or you get it," the thin man warned, bringing the revolver out from under his coat. His wedge-shaped face was paler and twitched violently about the mouth and eyes.

The sedan settled down, gathering speed. Above the roar of the exhaust Martin heard the racing motor of the car behind, near and coming nearer. A siren screamed suddenly, almost in his ear.

"They got us," Mickey growled. "They're climbing right over us."

"Take the next corner," yelled the thin one, his face working. He raised the gun. Out of the corner of his eye Martin saw the radiator of the pursuing car creep alongside.

The revolver roared, packing the interior of the sedan with

YOUNGSVILLE Rotary Hears Address On Club Service

Youngsville, Oct. 22—At a special meeting of the Youngsville council last week it was decided to install parking meters for the business section of town on a nine months trial. The exact number will be determined by a survey to be made by traffic engineers from a Pittsburgh company from whom the meters will be secured. The report will be made at the November council meeting and an ordinance will then establish a meter zone.

The cost of each meter will be about $75.00. This will be met by giving the company selling the meters half of the money obtained from the meters, the other half stays in the city treasury. If at the end of the trial period the borough council should decide not to keep the meters the money which the company has received will be kept by them as rent. It is expected that between 75 and 87 meters will be installed in December. They will be a multiple coin meter, holding 15 pennies or three nickels. This will provide for from twelve minutes to three hours parking.

GARDEN CLUB HOST TO COUNTY CLUBS

About seventy garden enthusiasts were present Thursday evening at the Grange Hall when the Youngsville Garden Club was host to the garden clubs of the county. The guests were served from a bountifully laden buffet table, to which the local club added coffee, ice cream and cake.

Following the supper the guests were invited to the lodge hall for the entertainment. This began with an orchestra composed of Joe Davis, clarinet, Eddie Baumgardner, cornet, Wm. Horner, trombone, and Mrs. Joe Davis at the piano. After several numbers they closed with "Auld Lang Syne." As "the only piece the band could play." This was done in all sorts of ways from a funeral dirge to a Scottish dance.

The words of welcome were given by the president of the local club, Mrs. C. C. Johnson. She closed by asking all to stand and give their names and towns from which they came. Guests were present from Sheffield, Tidoute, Sugar Grove, Lottsville, Pittsfield. The Sheffield Club responded with their club song.

Mrs. E. C. Stillung brought up the subject of an inter-county club news letter. It was decided to start this at once. Youngsville to send out the first letter and then proceed alphabetically from one club to the next. Mr. Orville Barton then ran a group of three films on the moving picture machine. They depicted "Flowers at Work, Vegetation and Fish at Alaska" and the "Growing of Orchids."

The Commendation gave Lt. Lawson full credit for "the outstanding manner in which he performed his duties as Officer in Charge of Graves Registration Activities in the Island of Sicily, 2621st GRU, from 1st November 1945 to 1st June 1946" and stresses "the initiative and perseverance displayed in the accomplishment of his assignments."

YWCA Board Hears Reports About Many Department-Committee Events

The October meeting of the Y. W. C. A. board of directors was held Monday night at the Y. W. C. A. building. The meeting was opened by Mrs. Bertha Knapp, who read some devotional poetry. Following the reports of the recording and corresponding secretaries and the treasurer, Miss Mary Church, executive director, gave her report.

Highlights of it were that four regionally-based branch offices of the National board opened this fall. The Warren office is the new York office but branches have been set up in San Francisco, Chicago and Atlanta in order to give better service to the community associations. She also told how filled the Y. W. C. A. schedule is and that the second week of October alone saw 1649 people attending events in the activities building.

Mrs. Robert Truesler told of the plans for the benefit card party on Tuesday, October 28th. Reservations for tables are being made at the office now and a large attendance is hoped for. She also announced the World Fellowship Week tea on Saturday, November 15th, when Miss Mildred Owen of the national staff will visit Warren. Mrs. W. P. Bennett, whose committee is also working on the card party, told of the enrollment of 25 in the two Swedish classes of over 40 in the bridge class and of room for more enrollment in the gym class. The first square dance of the year had been held, with five sets participating, and the next is scheduled for Monday, November 4th. Mrs. Harold Warren's public affairs committee also is working on the card party for the 28th.

Mrs. Harold Smith stated the memorial committee report is not complete but that from all indications, last year's record will be passed. This was evident when Mrs. Bertha Knapp presented 69 names for membership in the local Y. W. C. A. They were all accepted. Those who have failed to assist the membership committee greatly by taking care of this matter at the office since in most cases someone has tried to reach them and found them not at home.

An announcement was made that the Regional Y. W. C. A. conference in Pittsburgh, originally scheduled for October 8-11, is now scheduled for November 6-8 and it is planned to have the Warren Association represented there.

The last item on the agenda for the evening before adjournment for the community chest meeting was a play by Girls' Club members. It was a repeat performance of the play presented at the high school and Beauty assemblies to introduce the name Y-Teen, and proved both enjoyable and informative.

Judges Named To Pick The Winners In Poster Contest

Mrs. F. J. Kotzmaier, president of the Community PTA Council, announced that judges have been named to select the winners in the annual Clare Tree Major poster contest sponsored by the organization and to be concluded this week.

Those who will judge the many entries are Mrs. Gerda Lawrence, art instructor at the high school; Mrs. Leslie G. Poles, former art teacher at Beauty, and L. C. Niederlander.

First and second prizes will be awarded in each of the grades through the sixth, pupils of all borough grade schools participating. Entries must be in the hands of the committee no later than Friday of this week, so that time may be allowed for the task of judging. Winners will be placed in the window of the Miller Shop, Liberty street, during the week of November 4.

Mrs. Creed Erickson is in charge of this year's poster contest and Mrs. Albert Ristau is chairman of the sales committee for this year's offerings. Tickets will be placed in the schools this week, so that season tickets may be had in advance of the first play.

A new plan will be in effect this year in presenting the plays, the shows to be given at the Library Theatre at ten o'clock in the morning on the two respective Saturdays set. "Nobody's Girl" has been scheduled for a performance on November 9, and "Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs" on March 29.

Help the Needy

Tonight most Warren people are snug in their own homes, ignorant of the fact that in many places in Warren county—right here in Warren, in fact—there are many, many needy families. Interviewed concerning the truth of the above statement, the public health nurse points out it is true that the majority of men are employed and getting a decent wage—but all foodstuffs are so high that when the grocery bill is paid little is left over for medical care and clothing. We'll let her tell the rest of it in her own words: "If some of you could just make a few calls with me and see the deplorable conditions that exist right here in our own community, I am sure your eyes would be opened as mine were when I started in this work. I never realized until I called at their homes that some people were forced to live as they do. One day last week I called at a home where there were seven children. The father is doing the best he can to care for his children and he was quite disturbed by the fact that his children couldn't have all the advantages others have. He said: 'There is no money left over for clothing.'

"The Needlework Guild is asking you for two new garments to help these needy people. Very few of you realize that the public health nurses depend solely on the Needlework Guild to supply the clothing they use in this very worthwhile task. To help carry on this wonderful work, call Mrs. Norbert Peterson, 204-E, or leave your contribution of the two new garments at the Y. W. C. A. some day this week. The visiting nurses request infants' vests, receiving blankets, diapers, infants' gowns or slips, mittens—clothing of every kind for children from two to six years of age."

Grace Methodist Choir Is Honored

In a room beautifully decorated with fall flowers and leaves, the Dorcas Class of Grace Methodist church served a delicious chicken dinner to members of the church choir.

A program followed in the Winger room. Mrs. Dwight Silde entertained delightfully with original rendition of the following piano numbers: "When Day Is Done," "Perfect Day" and "Star Dust." Miss Jean Smith sang two numbers, "Ma Curly Headed Baby" by Chutman and "A Little China Figure" by Leon. Mrs. Kenneth Nielsen, church organist, was the accompanist.

Rev. Harold Knappenberger talked to the choir about using their talents, their voices. He used a "new broom" as his illustration, saying that "a broom ceases to be new after it has swept; if a broom never sweeps, it is useless. A good combination of sermon and music makes for a good church service."

Mrs. Edwin Jack, choir leader, thanked the choir for its cooperation and requested its continued support.

Gas turbine engines, whether equipped with a propeller drive or depending upon jet power, can be easily installed in the wing of a large airliner with a considerable reduction in air resistance, as compared with a regular reciprocating engine, according to R. P. Krohn, Westinghouse engineer.

Gas turbines, similar to those used in jet-propelled planes, have been successfully adapted for locomotive use by the Swiss railway.

Mr. and Mrs. Atkins Are Entertained on Their Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Atkins, Franklin street, were honored guests Saturday evening when members of the Quaintance Class of First Baptist church arranged and carried out a delightful program of entertainment to mark their 25th wedding anniversary. There were 59 persons in attendance for the very happy affair.

Individual programs, printed in blue and white and tied with pink and blue ribbons, provided keepsakes for the guests and informed the group concerning the evening's activities.

Rev. Milton G. Perry, pastor, opened the program with devotions, after which Mrs. F. H. Hetrick gave a reading and Mrs. Foster Hise sang a request favorite of the couple, "Always." Another solo, "When Your Hair Has Turned to Silver," was by Ralph Owens. After Mart Swanson had acted as spokesman for the group in presenting the honored guests with an attractive gift, movies were shown of a party given by the class for the silver wedding of Mr. and Mrs. Francis Hetrick. Group singing concluded the program numbers, all of which were announced by Earl Burbee.

White mums and silver appointments were used in the prettily decorated refreshments table, which was centered with a three-tiered wedding cake, complete to miniature bride and groom, and was presided over by Caryl Walter, of Cleveland, O., and Mrs. Harold Lee, Jamestown, N. Y.

SKIPPING A DOUBLE IS GOOD STRATEGY

The first Southern Appalachian Tournament held since the beginning of the war got off to a good start at Asheville, N. C., this year. There were over 125 out-of-town and out-of-state players with 15 or 20 states represented in the group.

The men's pair championship, a new event on the program, was won by two of the South's most popular players, Benjamin Johnson, of Spartanburg, N. C., and Murry Gross, of Asheville.

Gross is known as a psychic bidder, and although he appears to be clowning at times, he can be depended upon to have his feet on the ground when it comes to an important decision. He showed great restraint in not doubling six hearts on today's hand. He did not double on the first round of bidding for fear that the two-heart bid might be left in. He wanted his partner to bid, so he chose the one-bid of three hearts.

Much to his surprise, South leaped to six hearts, and that bid kept Gross from doubling. North's response of two hearts over one showed a truly weak hand. With East showing a powerhouse and South showing weakness, if South could jump to six hearts, Gross was not going to let him make it doubled against him. So he passed and the pass gave him top score.

The only trick the declarer lost was the opening spade lead. South trumped the second spade, took two rounds of trumps and established his club suit by ruffing a small club.

At first glance it appears that East certainly should double six hearts; but if the six bidder is a good sound player, a study of the bidding indicates that a double would be of doubtful value.

If a watch is wound faithfully, the balance wheel travels approximately 4000 miles every year.

Darling Store Is Dealer For Crown Jewels

The Darling Jewelry Company has been selected in Warren as exclusive dealers for Crown Jewel Diamonds.

In the Crown Jewel Diamond Rings, styled in the tempo of our day, modern master craftsmen have found inspiration in the untold beauty of Crown Jewels of old. They have sought successfully to recreate them, to match their fascinating brilliance with the noble purpose of lending to America's lovely feminine fingers much of the breathtaking splendor that distinguished the historic Crown Jewels. In today's Crown Jewels America's brides have the counterpart of the original Crown Jewels. In wearing the modern-day Crown Jewel Diamond Rings of precious metal, lavishly carved and with alluring expertly chosen diamonds, brides of today can experience, in some measure, the pride and delight experienced by royal princesses adorned with the priceless Crown Jewels of old.

Diamond Rings are Crown Jewels only when this famous name is stamped within the ring and purchasers are to be urged to look for it. A singular advantage of selecting a Crown Jewel diamond ring is the exclusive certificate of guarantee given to every purchaser. It permanently registers the store's bond to the purchaser, guaranteeing its true and lasting quality and value. No ring carries a more comprehensive and certified protection. In addition to the Certificate of Guarantee, every purchaser of a Crown Jewel ring receives free diamond insurance, the annual check-ups and two annual cleanings, plus full trade-in value.

Like everyone familiar with Electric cooking, Mrs. Dittmar is enthusiastic about the performance of her Electric Range.

"Whether it's a pie, a roast done to a turn, or a vegetable dinner, it not only looks good—it tastes good. All the natural goodness is still there. And the positive heat control provided by my Electric Range enables me to duplicate every cooking success time after time."

Cadets Still Lead Country In Football Poll; Fighting Irish, Texas 2nd and 3rd

By SID FEDER
New York, Oct. 22.—(P)—Boastful back to first place among the nation's football teams a week ago by the country's sports writers, Army zipped farther out in front in the Associated Press weekly football poll today.

Notre Dame boosted its second place margin over Texas, and Tennessee, Northwestern, Georgia and North Carolina came skipping up the trail of their successes of last Saturday.

All together, 156 sports writers from every section of the country allotted in this third week of the Associated Press poll for the 1946 gridiron season. Texas drew 25 less votes for first place than it did a week ago, in spite of its 20-0 win over Arkansas last Saturday, and Notre Dame dropped 10 off its top-place selections.

As a result of all this, Army piled up 112 first-place picks, and an additional one-quarter top-spot vote, cast by an undecided ticket-splitter who couldn't make up his mind among the Cadets, the Irish, the Longhorns of Texas or the Quakers of Pennsylvania for the place at the head of the parade. With each voter balloting for 10 teams, Notre Dame finished with 217 first-place votes and Texas with 137.

The Volunteers of Tennessee, up-petters of Alabama, picked up six

Dragon 2nds Lose To Red Raider Team

The Warren seconds, junior members of the Warren High School Squad, went to Jamestown last night for a game with a similar team from Jamestown, and after holding a 0-0 score at the end of the first half, they lost hold and dropped the game to that team.

The Jamestowners started in the third quarter by blocking a punt on the Dragon's 30 followed a few plays later by a breakaway run that netted the Raiders a score. The pair of Jamestown speedboys did their share, one of them running 80 yards on an intercepted pass for the second Jamestown score.

Tonight the Freshmen will go to Jamestown for a meet with the Fresh of Lincoln Junior High followed by a meet of the seconds with the Lagewood for a night game and the following Monday the second team will travel to Bradford.

"YES" MAN

My name is Fred Smith. I'm the "Yes Man" at Personal Finance Co., that is—I'm the one who likes to say "Yes" to requests for Personal loans.

You see—I'm the manager of our office—the one who's responsible for building up our business. The more times I say "yes" to requests for loans—the more business we do. And since making Personal Loans of $25 to $250 or more is our ONLY business—that's mighty important to me.

Therefore, if you need extra cash at any time—whether a little for a short time or a lot for a long time—you can depend on my doing my best to say "yes" to you.

Next time you can use a loan give me a chance to say "Yes"—won't you? I'll consider it a favor. See me at Personal Finance Co., 216 Liberty street, second floor, over Lester Shoe Store. Phone 285.

Bossy Took Anaesthetic And Underwent a Real Operation

One of the valuable Holstein cows owned by Donald Gruber, who resides about one and one-half miles east of Lander can soon astonish the bovine Cows Group by talking about her operation. The cow yesterday morning suffered extreme pain and showed signs of being a very sick cow. Dr. David Rice, veterinary surgeon of North Warren diagnosed the case and ordered an operation to remove "something she had."

Yesterday afternoon assisted by Mr. Gruber and Paul Lindell the operation was performed. The cow was given a spinal injection and local anesthesia and the operation which took over four hours got underway. An incision was made and the large stomach of the cow was thoroughly cleansed and then way was made into the second stomach where a piece of wire was found to be causing the trouble.

The animal recovered in good shape and this morning is eating and gives all signs of recuperating in a splendid manner.

It was the second operation of the kind that Dr. Rice has performed and although somewhat rare both have been successful.

DEMOCRATIC

By the Associated Press

John S. Rice, Democratic candidate for governor, said today that "Governor Martin and his whole administration should be ashamed of the shabby treatment they have given 100 veterans" who seek a franchise to operate taxicabs in the city of Philadelphia.

He declared the veterans appealed to the Public Utility Commission for a franchise but that "fifteen months have gone by without action."

"Regardless of the merit of their case," asserted Rice, "they should have had a yes or no answer long ago."

At the same time U. S. Senator Joseph F. Guffey declared in a campaign address at Erie last night that Governor Martin, his Republican opponent for the senate seat, has chosen "to do nothing" about charges of macing among employees of the State Milk Control Commission.

Democratic State Chairman J. Warren Mickle said in a statement in Harrisburg today that "The Martin administration has just issued a great expense of the taxpayers, a campaign booklet whitewashing the frightful conditions in the state's mental hospitals." Mickle said the booklet pretended to show both the good and the bad sides of the hospitals, but declared the bad parts have been carefully selected "with the shocking parts completely eliminated."
